What Can You Tell Me About Assays for Other Substances?

There are new substances being reported regularly. We may be able to assist you in your research. Please simply contact us, and we happily will inform you of what we may have learned recently about the matter. If we have information of a non-confidential nature, such as yet unpublished data, we may be able to refer you to the source of those data (but only with their permission) so that you may discuss your interests directly. We are in regular and frequent touch with EBC researchers throughout the world, and our contacts may be able to help you.

You can most simply contact us by sending an email to info@respiratoryresearch.com.
